SMITH & AMBERG

It was 360 feet long and 100 feet wide, and contained millions of feet of heavy timber. Great sheets of flame shot up hundreds of feet and the column of smoke made a beacon that was seen far out to sea. Scores of yachts and launches took out pleasure parties and lay in the vicinity to watch the burning.

MIGHTY SQUADRON THAT WILL CARRY FLAG TO PACIFIC

REPRESENTATIVE OF AMERICA'S STRENGTH

Relief Prevails That in Event of War, the Sailors of the Mikado Would Have Met Their Match in the Men on Board the Splendid Warships of Uncle Sam--Austrian Military Expert Still Sees Menace in Japan's Action.

Washington--While recent events have been set at rest after the armistice, the present time between the United States and Japan, there is no doubt that the situation has been viewed by both governments in the most serious light. That Japan, in the military notes had assumed a tone of arrogance, seemingly calculated to arouse American resentment, and the gathering of the fleet to carry the stars and stripes to the far Pacific is undoubtedly looked upon by the world as a warning to the eastern empires that the patience of the United States has a limit.

Types of Vessels.

There are six distinct types of vessels in this battleship armada. In the table they have been grouped in the type to which they belong:

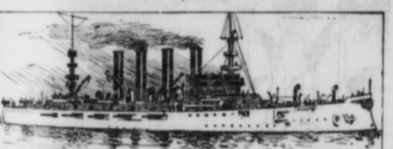

Ships	Tonnage	Gun	Speed
Connecticut	25,000	24	21
Louisiana	25,000	24	21

When the announcement was made that the navy department had decided to send the Atlantic fleet to the Pacific, a well known navy officer was asked what, in his opinion, would be the outcome of this overseas transfer of 16 battleships. "The chances," he said, "that Japan will seize the Philippines and declare war on the United States have been cut in two. The serious blunder was made when the battleships that were stationed out there were withdrawn. In the event of withdrawing them, the force should have been gradually but not hurriedly augmented."

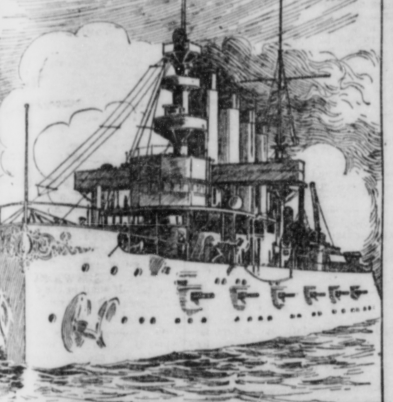

These are the 16 battleships of the Atlantic fleet which the government will send around the Horn into Pacific waters. The fleet as a whole is the most formidable one that is now gathered under our flag in any waters of the world.

The Four Best Ships.

The heaviest hitters among the members of the stars and stripes on the Pacific are the magnificent new ar-more cruisers West Virginia, Colorado, Maryland and Pennsylvania. The main battery of each of these 148 consists of four eight-inch guns and 14 sixteen rapid-fire guns, but there is a secondary battery made of fully two-score quick-firing guns that could do terrible execution at close range. Each of the ships carries 11 officers and 550 men--one of the largest ships companies in the United States navy.

Next in importance to the armored cruisers in the new Pacific fleet are the particularly up-to-date protected cruisers St. Louis, Charleston and Milwaukee. Each is 424 feet in length and 65 feet broad, with a displacement of upward of 10,000 tons. In speed they are the equals if not super-

The Combined Fleets.

The combined fleets would there fore comprise:

- 2 battleships.
- 2 armored cruisers.
- 2 monitors.
- 1 coast defense.
- 2 protected cruisers.
- 2 gunboats.

It is more than likely that these two new and powerful armored cruisers, the Tennessee and Washington, will accompany the battleship fleet if it moves from Atlantic waters. This would bring the armored cruiser fleet to eight in all.

If this force were dispatched to the east there would still be left on the Atlantic seaboard the following, which, if not now ready, could soon be rushed to completion:

- Iowa, battleship; undergoing repairs.
- Illinois, battleship; undergoing repairs.
 Massachusetts, battleship; undergoing repairs. | Delaware, battleship (second class); in commission. | Brooklyn, armored cruiser; in commission. | Minneapolis, protected cruiser; in reserve. | Columby, protected cruiser; in reserve. | Olympia, protected cruiser; in commission. |

Salem, scout cruiser; building, 75 per cent. completed.

Other Ships Available.

In addition to the armored fleet there are numerous cruisers and gunboats which are available for war purposes.

The following table shows the total naval strength of America and Japan, with the number of vessels built and building. The table does not include vessels over 20 years of age, unless they have been reconstructed since 1900. Transports, colliers, and auxiliaries are also eliminated from the count.

Strength of Japan.

Due to the secretiveness of the Japanese it is difficult to obtain the exact figures of that nation's military strength, but the following is believed to be approximately correct:

Regular (active total of all branches)	270,000
Reserves	425,000
Total	695,000

BELIEVES HIMSELF ANOTHER PERSON.

MAN LOST FOUR YEARS RESTORED TO FAMILY BY MIND ENTIRELY GONE.

CASE OF DUAL PERSONALITY

Family and Friends of Charles P. Brewin, of Burlington, N. J., Puzzled and Shocked by Strange Loss of Memory.

Burlington, N. J.--Restored after four years ago to his family after having been mourned for years as dead, but lost to himself, is the strange, and fate of Charles P. Brewin, for 20 years a staunch citizen of this old revolutionary town. He is a man that is...

To himself Charles P. Brewin is a child with but two years of memory. In spite of the three scores that have set snow on his head. He is now, he thinks, Charles Johnson, a gray little fellow, whose interest in life does not extend much beyond his "goose," whose economy includes taught but his daily bread, and whose love and affection, never having been born to illumine the blank wall of aphasia, knows not with his dear child. Yet wife and children are weeping over him, trying to persuade the amazed little man he is of their flesh and blood.

A strange case of dual identity, with one self dead, has seldom been disclosed. Physicians who have known the "whim" father as the prosperous Charles P. Brewin say the pressure of a small bone on the skull is the cause of all the trouble. But "Charles Johnson" knows nothing of medical science and knows less, and he is very much averse to having doctors open his head to see what is the matter.

His dual history dates from four years ago in November, when his wife and children awoke to find him gone. He had been a deacon for a generation in the First Baptist church of this city and was prominently identified with the G. A. R. These and other organizations gave aid in the search. There were trials for the family in the years that followed. The son took up the business of tailoring and the wife opened a lighthouse. The disappearance of Brewin was not a mystery to them. He was dead and a memory.

Monday last Alfred Woolman, a trolley conductor, was taking his car into Plainfield when he thought he recognized a weakened-faced old man, and called him by name.

"I am not Charles Brewin," cried the old man. "I am Charles Johnson." He sprang from the car and disappeared. Woolman told Frank, the missing man's son, and Will, his brother, who lives at Plainfield. Tuesday they set out for Plainfield and...

NO RINGS FOR MRS. GRACE LOEWER

IN A FEW HOURS SHE WHIPS FOUR MEN AND A WOMAN AND IS STILL STRONG.

Cody, Wyo.--Whenever, in her opinion, it becomes necessary to use physical violence on an opponent, Mrs. Grace Loewer makes her own rules for the contest. She has no use for marquis of Queensberry or any other authority on ring etiquette.

Mrs. Loewer, five feet four inches in height and weighs 120 pounds. Surrounding Mrs. Loewer's residence are Frederic Claude Barnett's garden patch and the ranches of Charles and his wife.

After taking a rest Mrs. Loewer went over to Mr. Kline's and informed him that his barn encroached on her land and told him to move it back ten feet. There were some words and Mrs. Loewer landed hard on his chest.

There were loud cries and Mrs. Kline, who was hearing, hurried to the assistance of her husband. Whereupon Mrs. Loewer got in a right and left arm swing and at the same time removed a handful of Mrs. Kline's pompadour. The Klines retreated in some disorder, leaving Mrs. Loewer looking like a "winged victory" in full possession of the back yard.

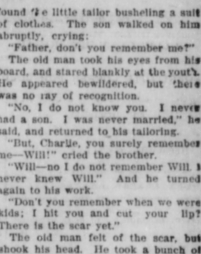

Thus within a few hours Mrs. Loewer whipped four men and one woman and was still fresh and strong.

His Stomach a Hardware Shop.

Paris--Dr. Berger, an eminent surgeon of Necker hospital, has removed several pounds of metal buttons, needles, pins and watch chains from the stomach of a man named Hily. The patient formerly earned a livelihood as a sword swallower. Finding that occupation no longer remunerative, he decided to train as a human ostrich. He consumed, in September, and August, went well until last month, when severe internal pains necessitated his removal to a hospital. He announces his intention of retaining his nail diet after his recovery.

Drawing Washing Fluid--Voice Gone.

Leicester, Mass.--From drawing a few swallows of washing fluid, Eva, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Tremblay, Oxford street, this city, has completely lost her voice, and is able to make her wants known only in faint whispers. The attending physician says she will never regain her voice.

ROJIAT

"Father, don't you remember me?" The old man took his eyes from his board, and stared blankly at the youth. He appeared bewildered, but there was no ray of recognition.

"No, I do not know you. I never had a son. I was never married," he said, and returned to his tailoring.

"But, Charles, you surely remember me--Will!" cried the brother.

"Will--no I do not remember Will. I never knew Will." And he turned again to his work.

"Don't you remember when we were kids; I hit you and cut your lip? There is the scar yet?"

The old man touched the scar, but shook his head. He took a bunch of...

"That's the key-ring that Uncle Ned gave you when you were a boy," cried the brother. "Let me show you."

It was a trick ring that could be opened only by a pin. The brother opened it. The little tailor turned on him in amazement.

The birth of his memory began in a hospital somewhere in Eleventh street, New York, where he was a doctor named Philbin. "He told me I was Charles Johnson," the old man would cry again and again, as they would call him by name.

"I would not have him among us against his will," said his resigned wife. "How could I live with a man who believed himself not to be my husband?" The family refused to divulge the whereabouts of the old man. They will make a sincere effort to efface the second personality.

plowed ground, shielding his face with his arms and yelling, "Nuff!" "Nuff!"

Finally, Mrs. Loewer stood alone, disheveled, two front teeth gone, but victorious. She had had time to notice that the water she tried to get was running over Blaine's alfalfa instead of her own. As she began to remedy this state of affairs, Mr. Blaine appeared with expostulations.

Mrs. Loewer gathered up an apronful of stones and bombarded Blaine with such succession of tooth-picks, cut-cakes, drops and hot liners that he fled with many sore spots on his frame. The bombardment came finally to a closer encounter, in which the fighting woman made Mr. Blaine's face look like an open-mouthed cranberry pie.

After taking a rest Mrs. Loewer went over to Mr. Kline's and informed him that his barn encroached on her land and told him to move it back ten feet. There were some words and Mrs. Loewer landed hard on his chest.

There were loud cries and Mrs. Kline, who was hearing, hurried to the assistance of her husband. Whereupon Mrs. Loewer got in a right and left arm swing and at the same time removed a handful of Mrs. Kline's pompadour. The Klines retreated in some disorder, leaving Mrs. Loewer looking like a "winged victory" in full possession of the back yard.

Thus within a few hours Mrs. Loewer whipped four men and one woman and was still fresh and strong.

Court House News

Condensed for Our Readers

The following cases are being tried this afternoon (Thursday) as we go to press:

Fred Colly, charged with shooting a horse belonging to Al and Joe Johnson.

Rosie Paschal, charged with petit larceny.

Rob Moore charged with shooting Oliver Tate (both colored). The shooting occurred in the bottoms below Hickman.

Judge Naylor let a contract for a levee at Mud Creek bridge yesterday morning, also a levee on Swanson's branch. At the time of going to press we had not learned the names of the contractors.

The following deeds have been recorded since our last report:

McClellan heirs to T. A. McClellan, land near Cayce, $3025.

E. J. Finch to Atkins Cole, town lot in Fulton, $1200.

J. F. & S. L. Dodds Co. to Mary H. Kirk, town lot in Hickman, $1000.

J. P. Swann to W. H. McLeskey, town lot in Fulton, $80.

W. H. McLeskey to Horton Brann, town lot in Fulton, $80.

E. W. Bradley to Trustees of Baptist Church, two acres land near Cayce.

Elie Davis to J. E. Roper, land near Cayce, $400.

Fannie B. Shaw to Scott A. Barbee, town lot in Hickman.

Beautiful Women.

Pump cheeks, flushed with the soft glow of health and a pure complexion, make all women beautiful. There's no small dose of Herbine after each meal. It will prevent constipation, help digest what you have eaten, cure, Wm. M. Stewart, M.D., Houston, Tex., writes, May 21, 1907.

"We have used Herbine in our family for eight years, and found it the best medicine we ever used for constipation, bilious fever, and malaria. Sold by—Cowell's Drug Store, Inc., and Helin & Ellison."

The fourth trial of Caleb Powers, on the charge of conspiring to kill Gov. Wm. Goebel, was begun at Georgetown, Monday, with Judge Robbins, of Mayfield, presiding. The first effort of Powers' counsel was to disqualify Judge Robbins.

Notice.

The undertaking department of the Farmers Hardware Co. will continue to be under the management of H. C. Barrett, a licensed embalmer, who will answer all calls promptly. Night phone 164.—Farmers Hardware Co., Incorporated.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. Al Thomas and family wish to express their thanks to their friends for the many acts of kindness shown them and their loved one during her illness and death.

Two detectives spoiled the plans of pretty Maxie Whitnell, Fulton young lady, when she arrived in Memphis, Wednesday, to meet her lover, Geo. Meacham. She boarded the train only after many difficulties and falling into the custody of the officers was not a great surprise. "This will never make any difference," she said, "tomorrow is just as good as today and nothing can keep us apart." However, Mrs. Whitnell doesn't agree with her romantically inclined daughter.

Miss Elizabeth Clear, of Troy, Tenn., has been visiting Mrs. E. G. Oman for several days.

Local Notes

Mrs. John Basley is sick this week.

Mrs. Minnie Tullis is on the sick list this week.

Miss Birdie Boyle, of Route Four, was in town Tuesday.

Mrs. J. M. Reed returned from a visit in Nashville, Friday.

Capt. H. A. Tyler was in Paducah this week on business.

Mrs. and Ruby Bondurant, of East Hickman, have the measles.

Mrs. Buck Routen, of Route Four, is better after several weeks of illness.

Homer Bowden, of Cottage Grove, Tenn., visited E. H. Bowden and family last week.

Oscar Cook, of Martin, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Cook, this week.

John N. Verner will arrive today to spend a few days with his brother, Rev. F. H. Verner.

Gov. Sovereign Root has been invited to attend the big W. O. W. barbecue next Wednesday.

No saw-edged or torn-up garments if you send your laundry to the Union City Steam Laundry.

Miss Minnie Stoker has returned home from Mount City, Ill., where she has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Jas. Smith.

The Christian Endeavor will meet next Sunday evening at the Court House. Miss Lola Cavitt will have charge of the service.

Leave your laundry with W. E. Carpenter, at the Farmers Hardware store, for the Union City Steam Laundry. W. E. Carpenter, Agt.

Mr. and Mrs. Holden and child and Charlie Bowden and wife of Cottage Grove, Tenn., are visiting the family of E. H. Bowden, this week.

Compare the Courier this week with any other paper you get. We claim we print more local news than any other paper in Western Kentucky. See if we are not right.

Our friend, John W. Davis, orders his paper changed to Washington. D. C. He is holding down a civil service position and writes us he is doing well.

Let W. E. Carpenter send your laundry to the Union City Steam Laundry, and you will be a permanent customer. Agency at Farmers Hardware Co.

The Fulton County Teachers' Institute will convene at the Hickman College Monday, Aug. 26, and will continue five days. Prof. Druech, of St. Louis, has been engaged as instructor.

Mrs. F. S. Moore entertained a number of friends at lunch Tuesday afternoon. Prize awarded to Mrs. Lee Ellison; consolation to Mrs. Pearl Roberts. The afternoon was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Judge W. A. Naylor informs us that by the time the Courier reaches its readers, Bayview-Chien bridge will be in a passable condition. The workmen commenced laying the floor Wednesday evening. The inability to get lumber on the ground has been the cause of the bridge not being completed before.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will have an auction sale at the home of Miss Allie Dodds, Tuesday evening, Aug. 13. Many and varied useful articles will be sold. The services of two professional auctioneers have been engaged. Every body cordially invited to attend—and your pennies have a special invitation.

Mr. E. B. Prather, Sr., took charge of Farmers Hardware Co. on the first day of this month. The change was made by reason of H. C. Barrett accepting a position with the Mangel Box Co. Mr. Prather is a splendid business man, and we predict the business will continue to grow in volume and popularity under the new management. Mr. Barrett, as heretofore, will have charge of the undertaking department.

A Happy Home

To have a happy home you should have children. They are great happy-home makers. If a weak woman, you can be made strong enough to bear healthy children, with little pain or discomfort to yourself, by taking

WINE OF CARDUI

A Tonic for Women

It will ease all your pain, reduce inflammation, cure leucorrhoea, (whiten), relieve womb, ovarian trouble, disordered menses, backache, headache, etc., and make (healthful) natural and easy. Try it. At all dealers in medicines, in $1.00 bottles.

"DUE TO CARDUI"
Is my baby girl, now two weeks old, writes Mrs. J. Priest, of Webster City, Iowa. "She is a fine healthy babe and we are both doing nicely. I am still taking Cardui, and would not be without it in the house."

Early Morning Fire.

About 5 o'clock Monday morning fire broke out in the rear of the Elite Cafe—the result of a gasoline stove explosion. Before assistance could be summoned the building was a seething mass of smoke and flames. The building is the old Courier office building, between a barber shop and the Chinese laundry, on the south side of Clinton street, and it looked very much as though the entire block would be destroyed. When the alarm was turned in our local fire department was soon on the scene and by hard work succeeded in getting the fire under control.

The building was the property of Mrs. Geo. Warren. The damage sustained is variously estimated at from $600 to $1,000. Insurance on building $1,000.

The Elite Cafe, owned by Richmond McDaniel, was totally destroyed. He carried $500 insurance, but this amount will not cover the loss.

Hollis Kirk, who had the dwelling apartment above the Cafe, lost his household goods in the fire, and his badly damaged by fire and water. Kirk had $250 insurance on his goods.

McDaniel informs a Courier reporter that he will go back in business just as soon as possible.

Barnell Wright, employed in the Cafe and who was lighting the stove when it exploded, escaped without a scratch.

FARMERS' UNION RALLY

At Mud Creek Bridge on Saturday, August 17th, 1907

Everybody come, bring well-filled baskets and enjoy an old-time dinner on the ground.

This will be a red-letter day in the history of the Farmers' Union. Such speakers as National President C. S. Barrett, of Georgia, and the noted Thos. E. Watson, will address the farmers. These speakers have a national reputation.

Music by the Brownsville String Band. Refreshments of all kinds on the grounds.

Dude. Heatherly Dead.

Dude Heatherly, aged 19 years, who resided with his parents six miles west of Hickman, died Saturday of malarial fever, after a brief illness. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee W. Heatherly, who survive him.

The remains were taken charge of by the W. O. W., at the Farmers Hardware undertaking department, and buried at the City Cemetery with the regular lodge ceremonies. Deceased had been a member of this order only a few weeks, and carried $1,000 insurance.

The Courier extends sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

Children in Pain

never cry as do children who are suffering from colic. This is the cause of all babies who cry and are treated for colic, when they really are suffering from hunger. This is caused from their food not being assimilated but devoured by nature. A few doses of White's Cream Vermifuge will cause them to cease crying and begin to thrive as usual. Give it a trial. Taxes—Taxes.

All persons will take notice that County and State taxes have been due for some time and the penalty goes on earlier this year than heretofore, and must be paid by November 1st, or tax warrants will be issued on the delinquent parties. By paying now or before the first day of November you will save and $10, as this is the cost of the tax warrant.

You will also take notice of the following section of the Kentucky Statutes in regard to the dog tax.

Sec. 7, Acts 1906—

Any owner or harbinger of a dog, subject to be taxed, who shall fail or refuse to list the same with the assessor, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $10 for each dog so failed or refuses to list for taxation; and any person who shall keep or harbor a dog upon his premises or elsewhere, who has failed or refused to pay the tax thereon when due, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding $25 for each offence, and, upon conviction, the judgment may include an order requiring such dog to be killed, which may be executed by any peace officer, who shall be allowed $10 therefore, to be taxed as costs. It shall be the duty of the sheriff and his deputies, and each constable in his district, to kill or cause to be killed any dog, the owner of which has failed or refused to pay the tax thereon when due, and for each dog so killed, without the order of a court, such officer shall be allowed by the fiscal officer of the county, to be paid out of the court fifty cents, to be paid with the dog tax fund. For the purpose of this act, the tax on dogs shall be considered due on the first day of March of each year: Provided however, the Sheriff may collect such tax at any time and in such manner as taxes are now collectible by law.

 SATURDAY EVENING REVERIES.
 As we are alone with our thoughts this Saturday evening, our mind recalls many admirable actions that are overlooked by many of us because they are so little and common.
 Take, for instance, the mother, who has broken slumber, if any at all, with the nursing babe, whose wants must not be disregarded; she would faint sleep a while when the breakfast hour comes, but patiently and uncomplainingly she takes her timely seat at the table. Though exhausted and weary, she serves them all with refreshing cup of coffee or tea before she sits it herself, and often the cup is handed back to her to be refilled before she has had time to taste her own. Do you hear her complain this weary mother—that her breakfast is cold before she has time to eat it? And this is not for one, but for every morning, perhaps, in the year. Do you call this a small thing? Try it and see. Oh, how does woman shame us by her fer-reance and fortitude in what are called little things? Ah, it is these things which are tests of character;
 it is by these "little" self-denials, borne with such self-forgotten gentleness, that the humblest home is made beautiful to the eyes of angels, though we may fail to see it, alas, until the chair is vacant, and the hands which kept it motion all this domestic machinery is powerless and cold.

Should an acquaintance tread on your dress—your best, your very best—and accident tear it, how profuse you are with your: "Never mind—don't think of it—I don't care at all." If a husband does it he gets a frown. If nothing worse; if a child, it is chastised. "Ah these are little things," say you.
 They tell the heart, be assured, little as they are. A gentleman steps at a friend's house and finds it in confusion. He doesn't see anything to apologize for—never thinks of such matters—everything is all right—cold supper—cold room—crying children—"perfectly comfortable." He goes home. His wife has been taking care of the sick ones and worked her life almost out.
 "Don't see why things can't be kept in better order—there never were such cross children before." Why not use freely the golden coin of courtesy? How sweet they sound, those little words, "thank you,"
 or "you are very kind." Doubly, yes, truly sweet from the lips we love, when heartsmiles make the eyes sparkle with the clear light of affection. Be polite to your children. Do you expect them to be mindful of your welfare, to grow glad at your approach, to sound away to you pleasure before your request is half spoken? Then, with all your dignity and authority mingle politeness. Give it a niche in your household temple. Only then will you have the true secret of sending out into the world really finished gentlemen and ladies.

Many a child goes astray, not because there is a want of prayer or virtue at home, but simply because home lacks sunshine. A child needs smiles as much as flowers need sunbeams. Children look little beyond the present moment. If a thing pleases, they are apt to seek it; if it displeases, they are prone to avoid
 it. If home is the place where faces are sour and words harsh, and fault-finding is ever in the ascendant, they will spend as many hours as possible elsewhere. Let every father and mother, then, try to be happy. Let them look happy. Let them talk to their children, especially the little ones in such a way as to make them happy.

Happy is the man whose heart retains its youth, under the pressure of years; who, though grave, can still be cheerful, whose hopes are as strong as ever, though the objects are changed; who has lost nothing of the finer tastes and sentiments of his earlier years, who can still admire the beauties of nature, in whose ear the voice of youth sounds pleasantly, and the laugh of children as music, who can enter into their pleasures and share in their enjoyments with a keener relish, perhaps, because they recall the memory of bygone days, and who can travel the down-hill road of life with more hope for the future than regret for the past. For such a man even old times has its pleasures, for though at times the shadows of the past may darken his spirits, he has but to turn his thoughts to the future to dispel them. How vain and empty appear to him all honors and distinctions gained by trafficking with truth, justice and religion; how worthless that accumulation which, while it corrupts and enervates the soul, can not satisfy the heart, and which he who has wasted his life in gathering must leave behind; and how idle and hollow that popular applause in which the weak fanatic fancies he hears the voice of God.

When a man has established a home, has a wife and children, the most important duties of his life have fairly begun. The errors of his youth may be obliterated, the faults of his early days may be overlooked, but from the moment of his marriage he commences to write an irrefragable history; not by pen and ink, but by deeds, by which he must ever afterwards be reported and judged.
 His conduct at home, his care for family, the training of his children, his attention to his wife, his devotion to the great interests of eternity; these are the tests by which his character will ever afterwards be estimated by all who think or care about him. These will determine his position while living, and influence his memory when the grave has closed over him. And as he uses well or ill the brief space allotted to him out of all eternity, to establish a fame founded upon the most solid of foundations—private worth—so will God and man judge of him.
 He holds in his hands the private weal and woe of his wife and children, and if he abuses this most holy, God-given trust, he cannot hope for mercy hereafter. Many a child goes astray, simply because home lacks sunshine. Many a wife es-teems death her best friend, because he who swore before God to "love, honor and cherish" has forgotten his vows.

Rankin Kills a Man.
 News reached here yesterday from Tiptonville, Tenn., that Luther Rankin, nephew of Jim Rankin of this city, had killed one of the tenants on the Harris plantation near Tiptonville. It is said that the party had threatened young Rankin's life and the killing was done in self-defense.

Luther Rankin is an old Fulton county boy and always stood high in the estimation of those who knew him. For many years he resided near Crutchedfield. His brother, Will Rankin, of Martin, is a well known lawyer. He also has another brother, John, at Crutchedfield. Luther is well known throughout this entire section and his many friends regret to learn of his trouble, but believe he was justified in killing his aggressor.
 He has resided on the Harris plantation for six or seven years, and was foreman of the place.—Fulton Leader.

Same Rate to All.
 Clergymen, charity workers inmates of soldiers' and sailors' homes, hereafter, when they travel, will pay full fare, the same as ordinary citizens. Ever since the two cent rate laws began to be agitated the reduced fares for clergymen have been "up in the air." More than 100,000 annual certificates now in existence will be canceled. In the West these grant a rate of one and one half cents a mile and in the East of two cents a mile. The general inclination of the country to demand a flat two-cent rate determined the action. The roads feel that they can show no favors and that the present rate is enough for anybody.

 And every one that
 Is long as a string.
 To what do we turn for first aid?
 I know we will say
 Because we are wise to the scheme.
 And so I may state
 We turn to a plate
 Of nothing at all but for even.

State Fair Catalogue.
 The regular edition of Kentucky State Fair catalogue, printed in three colors and handsomely illlustrated, came from the press this week and thousands of copies are being mailed daily from the headquarters of the Fair at Louisville.
 It contains 152 pages.

There are also eight fine half tone views of the new grounds and buildings recently purchased by the State Board of Agriculture as a permanent location for the State Fair. One page is devoted to a description of the balloon race during the Fair, with three views of the balloons in the air. The captive balloon is a show in a large half tone.

There is a page out of Captain Knabenshue in the passenger-carrying airship which is to make daily flights and exhibitions at the State Fair, Sept. 16-21. This is to be Captain Knabenshue's only appearance in Kentucky or Southern Indiana. His passenger-carrying airship will only make six appearances in America before he departs and general interest of the airship are printed for the first time, in the State Fair catalogue.

Two pages are given to points of interest in and around Louisville, while there is some valuable information on the railroad depots and ticket offices, together with the steamboat lines.

One of the most attractive views in the book is an attractive zinc etching of the eruption of Vesuvius, which is to be shown nightly during the State Fair week, together with Pain's famous fire works.

Natiello and his all-star band from the "Land of Music" which is to give three concerts daily during the State Fair, occupies two pages in half tone.

An entry blank accompanies each catalogue, also a souvenir post-card in seven colors, which the recipient is asked to mail to some friend.

Courier readers desiring a catalogue will be sent one by applying to the Secretary, R. E. HUGHES, at Louisville.

Change in Rates.
 Manager Owens, of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Co., informs us that after the first day of August the company will abolish all special night and Sunday rates in Hickman and elsewhere.

This item will run into hundreds of dollars a year, and will reimburse the company to a certain extent for the fact that they have been forced by the citizens of this town to cut the rates to what the franchise calls for, since night and Sunday rates were just one-half the regular day rate.
